

APA PsycTests® Classification Code System

The APA PsycTests Classification System is not the same as the APA PsycInfo® Classification System, but was created using the same principles.

5000 Addiction, Gambling, and Substance Abuse/Use 5100 Anxiety and Depression 5200 Aptitude and Achievement 5300 Attitudes, Interests, Values, and Expectancies 5400 Cognitive Processes, Memory, and Decision Making 5500 Communication, Language, and Verbal Processing 5600 Consumer Behavior, Marketing, and Advertising 5700 Culture, Racial, and Ethnic Identity 5800 Development and Aging 5900 Education, Teaching, and Students Characteristics	6000 Emotional States, Emotional Responses, and Motivation 6100 Family Relationships and Parenting 6200 Functional Status and Adaptive Behavior 6300 Human Factors and Environmental Engineering 6400 Human-Computer Interaction 6500 Intelligence 6600 Legal and Forensic Evaluation 6700 Mental Health/Illness Related Assessment 6800 Military Personnel, Adjustment, and Training 6900 Neuropsychological Assessment	7000 Organizational, Occupational, and Career Development 7100 Perceptual, Motor, and Sensory Processing 7200 Personality 7300 Physical Health/Illness Related Assessment 7400 Religious and Political Beliefs 7500 Sex, Gender Roles, and Sexual Behavior 7600 Social, Group, and Interpersonal Relationships 7700 Sports, Recreation, and Leisure 7800 Trauma, Stress, and Coping 7900 Treatment, Rehabilitation, and Therapeutic Processes	8000 General Assessment Tools
---	---	--	--------------------------------------